

Frequently Asked Questions

Where can I find copies of the application forms?

If none are available at your school, go to:

<http://www.interactforchange.org/scholarships.html> and download copies of the forms you need.

Can I submit anything after the deadline?

No, wait for next year if you miss it.

Must I have an active RN license to apply for the Ida Casey Scholarship?

Yes. There are no exceptions for several unique graduate programs that have been designed.

I do not have a grade in my transcript for a nursing clinical. Do I really need this for the Anna Drake Scholarship?

YES! This is a very competitive scholarship. Do not apply without at least a 3.0 in your clinical and some indication that your faculty recommendation will be favorable.

My program is not accredited. Can I still apply?

No. Your program must be accredited.

Will I be able submit again or reapply after I receive an InterAct for Change nursing scholarship?

Yes, as long as you meet the criteria you may. Be aware that each group of applicants is evaluated independently. At this time no multiple year scholarships are awarded.

I do not meet all the criteria, should I still apply anyway?

No, save your time and energy. There are no exceptions made. Be aware you must live within or attend a school within the 65 mile radius of downtown Cincinnati.

I did not read and follow the directions or failed to allow processing time for my school's registrar's office to independently mail my transcript to Francie Wolgin by January 11. Will my application be processed?

No, incomplete applications will be eliminated.

I am scheduled to graduate or complete my program in May or June 2010 but have financial need. Am I eligible to apply?

You may apply. Be aware that funds are sent on your behalf directly to the academic institution or program to pay tuition, lab or graduation fees. The scholarship checks are not issued to individuals and unused money is returned to InterAct for Change. Most schools apply the money to the current outstanding balances or the next quarter or semester bill.
